Chest Opens Torrance Industry Campaign Today

Opening shots in the Community Chest's 1959 fund-raising campaign were fired today with the naming of the division chairmen who are to spearhead the forthcoming thrust into Harbor Area commercial and industrial territory.

Directing the thrust is Bert Lynn, chairman of the Chest's Commerce and Industry organization in the Harbor Area. Leading the push on Torrance are three of Lynn's 13 division chairmen; George Post, Scott Albright and George Vico.

Post is manager of California Bank at Sartori Avenue, Albright is in the Industrial Relations Department of National Supply Company, and Vico is assistant lease manager, Dominguez Estate Company.

By today each division chairman has recruited an 8-man task force to penetrate all business firms with payrolls of from 10 to 150 employees. Objective: a company gift for the campaign funds.

Hot School Lunches Rate Tops for Kids

School days have arrived and for Torrance Moms that means a survey of the lunch problem. With winter months ahead a hot midday meal adds fuel to keep the young scholars on their toes.

Cafeterias the best solution, will be open at all but three Torrance schools today according to school officials.

Elementary students will munch on hot dogs, brownies, and vegetables, while high school students will have their choice of a la carte specials. Friday elementary lunches will include grilled cheese sandwiches, fruit salad, and other nutritious foods.

Cafeterias which will not be open are Torrance Elementary, Fern - Greenwood, and South High, all of which are currently under construction. South High will continue last year's vending machine operation until the cafeteria is completed later this year. The two elementary facilities also will open later.

Elementary schools will have plate lunches planned to meet national "Type A" diet requirements. Milk is included in all 30-cent plate lunches, or may be purchased separately for four cents. Ice cream bars are six cents.

At high schools, all items will be "a la carte." Choice of several meat dishes will be offered, as well as other entrees. Prices were adjusted during the summer (some up, some down) to meet changing costs of food.

LIFE GUARDS RESCUE 11
An unusually quiet holiday weekend in the South Bay finally stirred up some activity Monday as a heavy surf accounted for 46 rescues along county beaches.

3 Burglaries in Area

Three burglaries were also reported in the Torrance area this week.

Camp Automatic Vending Service, 2448 S. Hawthorne Blvd. reported its office broken into early Tuesday morning.

The thief unlocked a window and stole $65 in coins and 20 cartons of cigarettes.

What police termed an "exploratory burglary" hit the office of the YWCA at 2320 Carson St. early Monday morning. Nothing was taken but the office was rifled.

Two bridles were stolen last weekend from a stable at 22704 Ocean Ave. Joe Bray, 18344 Ashley Ave., told police that the thief used a long stick to lift the bridles off a hook on the wall of the tack room.

It is the third year in a row that the pre-school get-together has been held in the park.

Cal Accredits Local Schools

Both Torrance and North High Schools again have been accredited by the University of California, according to a letter received this week by the Board of Education.

Since it had no seniors last year, South High is not yet accredited. However, the school will apply for accreditation early next year in time to benefit 1960 graduates. If they have completed required work with a "B" average, graduates of accredited high schools may be admitted to the University of California.

U. C. accreditation is based on course offerings, records of school graduates at universities and facilities such as counseling, libraries, classrooms and others.
